Dear Parent or Guardian:

On behalf of the Elgin Agriculture Science Department we would like to thank you in advance for allowing your son or daughter to join our FFA organization. Throughout the year we will experience many situations together. If ever you have concerns please encourage your son or daughter to communicate with his or her advisor. If there are further concerns please feel free to call an FFA advisor to set up a conference.

If you are looking to become involved with this outstanding organization as a parent, please consider the Elgin Livestock Association and Elgin FFA Booster Club. Please call our office for details on joining. The Elgin Livestock Association is to help serve our livestock exhibitors and the Elgin FFA Booster Club is looking to sponsor and mentor students interested in showing as well as creating a scholarship for graduating seniors. The meetings are posted on the Elgin Livestock Show Association website and Facebook page.

ELGIN FFA POLICIES

The FFA policies are set forth to enhance the agricultural educational experience of the students. The Elgin FFA Organization is dedicated to making a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education. Policies are written to act as a system of guidelines for FFA members participating in Supervised Agricultural Experience Programs, Career Development Events, Leadership Development Events, Speaking Development Events, Leadership Training Events, and being on the officer team. Understanding these expectations is intended to help everyone have a great experience.

STUDENT FFA MEMBER CODE OF CONDUCT

The same rules of conduct published in the Elgin I.S.D. Student Handbook will apply to all FFA settings. FFA members will be held accountable for any additional rules approved by the FFA advisors, principal, and superintendent that are specific to FFA. Failure to comply could result in conditional suspension depending on the severity of the case and circumstances.

General Rules:

1. Treat people the way you want to be treated.
2. Be respectful.
3. Be honest and trustworthy.
4. Take pride in your work.
5. Treat your equipment and facilities as though you own it.
6. Be a positive force at every team practice, game, match, or meet.
7. Be a good communicator. Advisors cannot read your mind.
8. Give your best effort in the classroom and on your team.
9. Refrain from profanity.
10. Obey the laws of our society.
11. Conform to the dress code set forth in the student handbook.

The National FFA Organization operates under a Federal Charter granted by the 81st Congress of the United States, and is an integral part of public instruction in agriculture. The U.S. Department of Education provides leadership and helps set direction for the FFA as a service to state and local agricultural education programs.

CONDUCT AND ATTITUDE

A person's conduct is directly related to their attitude. Members should see themselves as ambassadors, not only for their program, but for their school and community as well. People in other communities will develop an impression of Elgin based on the conduct of our members. Members with excessive and/or serious inappropriate behavior or attitude problems will be disciplined and could be removed from the FFA program.

GENERAL RULES OF CONDUCT

- Be a good citizen and associate with other good citizens.
- Obey the laws of the community and the school
- Take pride in your schoolwork, do the very best you can.
- Be respectful to those in authority.
- Take pride in your dress and appearance.
- Treat equipment and property as if you paid for it.
- Always tell the truth.
- Take and keep only what belongs to you.
- Be at every team practice and various events on time.
- Give your best effort at every practice and competition.

CLASSROOM EXPECTATIONS

Student members will be expected to:

- Maintain a grade of 70 or above in all classes to be eligible to play or to participate in all extracurricular activities according to the U.I.L. Failing members must attend tutorials. Members who fail a grading period are ineligible for competition.
- Be successful in the classroom under the authority of the teacher and demonstrate a respectful and cooperative attitude.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

FFA members are expected to be in class regularly and to be punctual. FFA members with excessive academic absences may be removed from an FFA team or SAE Program (Supervised Agriculture Experience). Absences, excused or unexcused, will be handled by the advisor of each team or SAE Program.

MISSED PRACTICE

You may only have 3 unexcused tardies and/or absences to practices before being dismissed from the team. If you are going to be late or absent you must notify an advisor prior to practice.

FFA PARTICIPATION CONFLICTS

FFA members are encouraged to participate in as many activities as possible and logical. However, when conflict arises, the advisors/sponsors and student should try to come to a workable practice and competition plan with the final decision made by the student. District, area, or state competition takes precedent over non-district competition.

ELIGIBILITY

Student's must meet the eligibility rules found in Section 400-440 of the Constitution and Contest Rules published by the University Interscholastic League and other rules provided by the local board.

TRAVEL

Members are required to travel to FFA events with the team unless extenuating circumstances arise. All arrangements must be made prior to the trip. Members may only be released to their parents/guardian and a written consent form signed and given to an FFA advisor before the departure of the trip. All school policies and FFA policies will be followed on FFA trips.

UNSPORTSMAN-LIKE CONDUCT

The FFA member is expected to represent their community, chapter and school with integrity and class. A FFA member who displays unsportsman-like conduct will be disciplined by the advisor. The member may also be dismissed from the FFA program.

SUSPENSION FROM THE FFA PROGRAM

The student may be removed from the FFA program if the student engages in conduct punishable as a felony listed under Title V of the Texas Penal Code. Only the FFA Advisor may suspend a member from the total program. Reinstatement may occur if the Ag teacher has reevaluated the member's attitude, behavior and / or academic performance change. The advisor may suspend a member from the team the member is participating. Documentation of why the member is being suspended will be provided and the parents will be contacted. The FFA advisors are responsible for seeing that discipline is consistent.

STEALING

Taking things that do not belong to you will not be tolerated. A member caught stealing at any time will not only be subject to the Student Code of Conduct. This also includes equipment not turned in after the season and equipment that belongs to the district that was "found" or "given" by someone else. Depending on the seriousness of the offense, a member may also be prosecuted by the law.

PROFANITY

Profanity or crude language in the FFA program will not be tolerated. Members heard using profanity or crude language will be disciplined. Our aim is to change this behavior.

RESPECT FOR ADVISORS

Advisors should receive respectful responses from members when addressing them. Whenever advisors are talking, members are to give them their undivided attention.

LETTERING

We believe that the team awards students receive at the end of the year for taking part in FFA are symbols of hard work, dedicated effort, positive attitude, and a desire to be successful. At the end of this document you will find the application. The advisors will notify the members when they are ready to accept applications for ordering jackets.

LIVESTOCK SHOWS

1. The livestock show exhibition of animals cannot be considered a “school sponsored trip” because the students are not trained in a classroom and are not riding to the site by way of school vehicles.
2. Transportation of animals and/or students is not a duty as listed on the Ag teacher’s contract.

One of the reasons why this is not a school sponsored trip is because there is an opportunity for the student to gain profits as an individual while no monies will go to the school in any circumstance. Unlike a school sponsored activity where students will not have an opportunity for any monetary gains, the possible money earned from livestock shows will go directly to the exhibitors. In addition, the individual receives the recognition, whereas at a school sponsored activity, the team from the school will receive the recognition as well as any trophies/awards (the students do not get to keep them).

The normal procedures for a student to attend a livestock show as part of the FFA are as follows. For the safety and well-being of the student, there will be parental responsibility for the supervision as well as the expenses related to the animal project, i.e. feed, lodging, meals, and transportation. Logistically, while at the livestock show, teachers and students work together on the animals. After they are finished they depart for the day and meet back the next morning. When the students and parents depart, they are on their own – responsible for themselves. This is no different from a student going home from school. This is a standard and normal procedure for attending the shows and exhibiting these animals. This is another reason why there are no permission forms required of parents. The parent/guardian is present and assumes responsibility for the student.

Since this is not a school sponsored trip, neither the district nor the teachers are liable for the students’ actions outside of the Livestock Show grounds. The Elgin ISD policy FMG (local) reads: “The district shall not be liable for any injuries that occur to students riding in vehicles that are not provided by the school.”

Selecting a Livestock Project

The agriculture teacher’s role is advisory only. The selection and purchase of the project is a cooperative effort. The teacher will not dictate what to buy, how much to spend or from whom the purchase is to be made. The selection should however be coordinated with the teacher before the animal is purchased. The teacher wants to make sure you are purchasing the best animal for the price you are about to pay.

Expenses Incurred

The student and parent are responsible for the initial cost of the animal. Prices for all species vary widely. It is recommended that a parent be present when the actual selection and purchase is made. Any other expenses for the purchase of the animals must be paid by the parent. The parents will also be responsible for any expenses incurred by their child while feeding and caring for the animal during the school year.

If using the Elgin FFA Ag Barn, please request an Ag Barn Contract from the Ag teachers. It MUST BE signed and returned to the Ag teachers before moving into the barn.

Estimated Animal Expenses

Turkeys	5-7 months	$75	$150-200 Depends on # fed	$125	$400 Depends on # fed

Ownership

No animal may be owned by one person and fed by another. Each student must feed and care for his/her own respective animal. Animals may be validated and registered for stock shows under more than one child's name in the same family so that a sibling may show the animal in case of an injury or illness. The teacher should be notified of any special arrangements where students are taking turns in feeding and caring for their animals. Normally this type of arrangement will be discouraged.

Validation

Validation is the identification & registration ID of an animal that is to be shown in Texas. In order to show at any county or major shows, your animal must be validated and registered with the county extension office. Validation tags may need to be ordered in the summer months. Contact the ag science teachers for information on validation tags and dates. Students and parents or legal guardian must be present with their animals at validation for signature purposes. There is a charge for the tags and the tattoo ink. The charge is established by the county livestock validation committee and is subject to change each year. The cost will be per entry. Requirements and validation dates for each animal will be announced by the ag teachers. If an animal missed the validation deadline it will not be able to be shown under any circumstances! Validation dates vary and are different for each species: steer validation in June, goats and lambs in October, swine in November, poultry is banded before purchase. Rabbits have ear tattoos.

Validation costs are not entry fees to livestock shows.

Each stock show has its own information and guidelines printed or available on the internet. While we make every effort to inform our members of the requirements of stock shows, it is ultimately the exhibitor's and parents' responsibility to inform them and adhere to all requirements. All major breeding stockshows require a health certificate which can be purchased from a veterinarian. Elgin FFA cannot be responsible for entering and overseeing open show projects. Students will NOT receive an extracurricular absence for these shows they may wish to attend.

Recommendations for Feeding and Care of Animals

The feeding and care of the animals is a very important aspect of the livestock project. Many believe it is responsible for at least fifty percent of the success or failure of the project. Below is a list of practices which, if done consistently, will lead to success in the show ring.

Daily Care

The daily routine of feeding and care is very important. All animals should be fed twice daily, as close to twelve hours apart as possible. Normally this will require approximately thirty minutes in the morning and thirty minutes in the evening.

Halter Breaking (Cattle, Lambs, & Goats)

One of the most important considerations which arise early in the feeding period is teaching the animal how to lead with a halter. The animal must be worked daily. This is no easy task and sometimes can be very time consuming. Consistency is the key. Normally this can be accomplished in the first several weeks.

Disease Prevention

The pen should be cleaned daily for all types of livestock. This reduces fly problems. Regular worming for internal parasites and vaccinations are mandatory. The FFA department offers a program for worming and vaccinations on a regular scheduled which covers the show season for a small fee.

Approved Livestock Surgical Practices

Many times it will be necessary to perform surgical procedures on livestock. These procedures can consist of docking of tails, castration, dehorning, etc. These procedures should be done by a veterinarian. Regardless of who does the procedure, the parent must realize there is always the possibility for complications. The owner must accept all risk of illness or death of the animal.

Weighing on a Regular Basis

Knowing the animal's weight and weighing on a regular basis is very important. Weight gain or loss is the best indication of how well the animal is progressing. Animals should be weighed on a weekly basis. It is particularly important near show time, as weight limits and classes are critical to placing the animal. It is also very important to know the minimum and maximum weight limits for the category in which your animal will show. Weight limits may be found in the specific show catalogs or show rule summaries. Your advisor or someone on the contact list can give you valuable information on how to adjust your animal's weight near show time.

Exercise

Proper exercise will allow the animal to develop muscle tone and reduce the bulkiness of the underline (belly). This is time consuming but very important, especially near show time. Animals must be walked or ran at least once daily. Normally, this should start around the first of October for sheep and cattle. Hogs may be exercised only the last month of the feeding period. Exercising the animal is probably the area neglected most by young people first learning to care for show animals.

Equipment Use

Arrangements must be made with the ag teachers for the use of any equipment belonging to the FFA. Clippers, blowers, etc. must be cleaned and turned in to the supervisor at the end of each use. Use of the livestock trailers must be reserved through the designated ag teacher and a trailer use agreement from and copy of insurance must be on file. Any FFA equipment lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed while in the possession of a student will be replaced at the expense of the student and parent.

Grooming Livestock for Shows

Along with feeding your animal, time must also be devoted to grooming. Washing, combing and clipping are daily activities for cattle, sheep and goats. The animals must be trained to stand correctly and calmly. This is critical because in some cases the judge may want to handle the animal. Proper grooming is required for all major shows and the Bastrop County Show. The ag advisors are available to help and educate students with their project. They will also have handouts available on each species which will detail more about the care for your animal.

Livestock Insurance

Special livestock insurance is available for those who are interested. Cost and other information may be obtained from the Ag teachers.

Elgin FFA Equipment Use Agreement

(to be completed by student and parent/guardian)

The Elgin High School Agriculture Science Department has equipment available to the students and parents/guardians of the Elgin FFA to groom and fit their show animals. However, this equipment is costly and relatively expensive to replace and repair. It is the responsibility of all parties to maintain and care for the equipment that our department has. Therefore, the following rules apply in order to checkout and use the Ag Department's Equipment.

1. All equipment checked out is for a 24 hr. period or the next day of class (i.e. weekend use). The designated Ag Teacher must check out equipment to the student or parent from the Ag Department. It is the student/parent/guardian's responsibility to return this equipment the following day in the same condition that it was checked out in. For example: equipment should be cleaned and free from sand, hair and other contaminants.
2. If equipment is damaged while in the student/ parent's possession, it is their responsibility to inform the Ag teacher of the damaged equipment. Abuse of the equipment leading to breakage will be the student's responsibility to repair the equipment. Lost or stolen items will be the student's responsibility to replace items with new equipment.
3. Equipment for use includes: Clippers with blades, blowers, lamb/goat trim table, cattle trim chute and truck cage.
4. Equipment should not be handed over to another student without going through the checkout process or approval of designated Ag Teacher. It is intended for the use of Elgin FFA members only: This does not allow for the personal use of equipment. Equipment is intended for the care, and management of animals raised through the Elgin FFA.
5. By signing the form below both student and parent/guardian agree to abide by the checkout policies and be completely responsible for the equipment in their possession. Failure to abide by the rules will result in loss of privileges for future request of equipment.
6. A EHS Ag teacher will determine if it is appropriate to check out equipment based on the good of the entire Ag Department.
